SEIZE GERMAN EXPORTS

Quick Retaliation For Nazis Sinking Of Fifteen Ships Now Threatened

By WALLACE CARROLL

British United Press, Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.
LONDON, Nov. 21—Great Britain ordered seizure of German exports on the high seas today in retaliation for sinking of 15 ships, including the big passenger liner Terukuni Maru, off the coasts of England since Saturday.

The drastic decision of the British government was announced amid cheers in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, who charged the Nazis with "ruthless and brutal" methods in laying floating mines in violation of international agreements.

Although the British action appeared certain to create danger of friction over neutral shipping, it was understood that the ministry of economic warfare had been making all necessary preparations and that seizures of German exports could start immediately.

British United Press, Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

LONDON, Nov. 21—The Japanese passenger liner Terukuni Maru was blown up by a mine and sank off the east coast of England today—the 15th victim of sea warfare since Saturday.

The 11,300-ton vessel, with a crew of 181 and 26 passengers aboard, sank within sight of the English coast, according to messages from Harwich, headquarters of the N.Y.C. line in London said that it was believed the 300 persons aboard had been saved by enemy ships which rushed to the scene. Other messages indicated casualties.

They were due to arrive in London tonight. The Terukuni Maru has a normal passenger complement of 235 but only carried 28 persons for London, which was scheduled at the termination of her voyage from Japan. The ship's last call was at Cebu.

She hit a mine in the same field where the Dutch liner Simon Bolivar sank on Saturday with loss of 84 lives and in which several other ships were destroyed over the weekend. The British charged German submarines had planted the mine.

French Believe Delay In Nazi Offensive Due To Lack Of Officers

By AXEL DE HOLSTEIN

Havas Staff Writer

PARIS, Nov. 21—With war on the western front still confined to patrol and artillery activity, French military experts today said they believed a German offensive has been delayed partly because of a lack of trained officers in the German army.

The French general staff now has information confirming that the German high command had decided on a big offensive in the west, including a drive through the Netherlands and Belgium, between Nov. 15 and 16.

French military men believe that the lack of trained officers played a big part in the decision to postpone the drive.

The German troops remain posted along the Belg. frontier, where the North Sea to Switzerland and ready to attack. The original plan, according to reliable indications here, provided for an attack not only through Belgium and the Netherlands, but also against French positions in Alsace and Lorraine, accompanied by attempts to cross the Rhine where it forms the Franco-German border.

It is learned that, in addition to the divisions already set up, the Reich has a huge mass of soldiers not yet organized beyond the regimental stage. These troops are being trained in the Franco-German border.

A survey under direction of the civil aviation branch is to be made in this vicinity and an inspection by Ottawa officials likely will take place in about two weeks, Mr. Haddow said.

Mr. Haddow took plans and information on Edmonton's present and potential facilities to Ottawa, where the officials received them with gratitude. He remained in Ottawa four days and visited other eastern cities, travelling by T.C.A. planes.

ISLAND WILL RATION LARD, BUTTER SOON

Ministry Is To Announce
Rationing Measures By Thursday

LONDON, Nov. 21.—W. S. Morrison, minister of food, announced last night his ministry had definitely decided to ration butter and lard.

The ministry expects to be able to determine by Thursday what and what preliminary rationing measures will be enforced, Mr. Morrison said.

He indicated shipping losses in the North Sea during the past week were having no bearing on the decision. The food ministry is now the sole importer of practically all foodstuffs.

It has negotiated contracts for purchases of considerable quantities of meat, cheese, and lard with South American countries and various Empire states. All measures taken thus far are functioning satisfactorily.

In regard to purchases in United States, it is believed that Canada has not concluded long-term contracts due to dollar exchange difficulties.

A number of short-term contracts are in effect and others are in the offing but they are expected to reach the scope of meat contracts with Argentina and Australia. Rationing of meat is not foreseen at present.

CO-OPERATION NOT POSSIBLE, SAYS MANION

Contrasts Criticism By Others With That Of

VANCOUVER, Nov. 21.—Hon. R. J. Manion, Dominion Conservative leader, Monday said his party has "offered proper patriotic and loyal co-operation in supporting parties in the federal house."

"We were called in by the other parties as the opposition in England, and gave information," Manion said as he left the Columbia Conservative association luncheon in his honor.

POSITIVE JUNE ELECTION

Dr. Manion arrived in Vancouver Monday morning from Edmonton. His train was involved in a night accident about 200 miles east of here and he gave first aid to five men on C.P. Cross Island.

Dr. Manion told the luncheon meeting there is "a good chance" of a general election in May or June next year, but that the decision will depend on the war situation.

He contrasted the "constructive criticism" of the Conservative party in Canada with the "factions, criticism of other groups" which he did not notice in England.

He said, "I have no sympathy with those people who in wartime accuse other people of criticism of the country and the empire."

CANT STAY OUT OF WAR

PROSECUTION FAILS PROVE KUNH THEFTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—A declaration the prosecution had failed to show "beyond reasonable doubt" that Fritz Kuhn had stolen money from his German-born band was made by Judge James G. Wallace in the Bundesgericht's latest trial.

At his expiration of judicial dissatisfaction with nature of testimony thus far offered, assistant district attorney Herman McCarthy previously indicated the state would reopen its case.

Judge Wallace told the young band leader that he was not convinced by a reasonable doubt because he (Kuhn) didn't deposit all of the money collected by the band into the bank, but that he did. It was not proved that any of the money was spent for legitimate band purposes, that expenditure does not constitute larceny.

SALLY CANT TELL COURT OF FINANCES

Bubble-Dancer Is Unable To Explain Any Details Of Her Assets

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—The divorce hearing of Rodney Pangas and Beatrice Verrill Pangas ended Monday on a note indicating a prospective behind-the-scenes battle over a property settlement.

Superior Judge William S. Baird took the counter divorce suit and the fight for custody of the two children of the marriage under submission after the sixth day of the trial introduced into testimony the name of a young film star, Richard Dix.

DECISION NEXT MONDAY

Judge Baird indicated he would announce a decision on the divorce suit Monday, when he also will settle the question of community property, which is being fought on the hands of the opposing attorneys.

Pangas' lawyer made an unofficial estimate of the couple's community funds at $20,000, but Mrs. Pangas' attorney indicated the figure should be $100,000 or perhaps more.

A witness for Pangas, Mrs. Louis Thomas, had testified Mrs. Pangas told her at Palm Springs to desert Rodney, when he was only five weeks the child before she married him. She said she was very tired and had a hangover.

Yesterday Mrs. Pangas said: "I never went out with Richard Dix."

SALLY RAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Sally Rand, of fan and bubble dance fame, made a personal appearance before a standing-room-only audience in Oakland county Monday, and said she really couldn't explain very much about her tangled finances.

"You'll have to ask my attorney Mr. Walsh, about that," she said frequently, in reply to questions about her assets posed by Arthur P. Shapiro, attorney for John O. England, receiver for her estate.

The documents filed say that Rand consists of $100,000 in some doubtful assets. Dr. Emswiler said $64,000.

Indignantly, she denied a gossip column story read into the record by Shapiro, relating that the record receiver didn't find anything of value when he visited Sally's ranch and Miss America's coronation at the Golden Gate Exposition was that her troupe of girls smuggled everything out under the wings of the hearing was continued to Dec. 20.

World Opinion Is Shocked by German Outlaw Sea Mines

By KIRKE SIMPSON Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Outlaw sea mines, drifting in the path of neutral shipping in the war zone to take a heavy toll of non-combatant lives, have shocked world opinion.

Whoever laid them or whoever they came to be floating in the sea lanes as kind and gentle menaces to all shipping, those mines are outlawed by the Hague conventions of 1909 in which all sea-going nations, including Germany, Great Britain and France have subscribed.

The British admiralty's contention that Nazi submarines have deliberately sown the seas with floating mines alone formally perpetrated war area raises a grave charge against Germany that even the unarmisted nations would find the last war by its "sink without warning" slogan.

The Germans have entered a denial, saying that an inquiry showed a German mine "could not have been responsible" for the sinking of the Dutch ship Simon Bolivar.

PERIL ALL SHIPPING

Floating mines are not confined to the right of passage of the Hague conventions might perpetrate lives in safety for the moved from the war zone. Drifting mines could and currents could move them to all vessels before and after contact mine after they are launched.

The clause permitting short-lived mines was inserted to meet the condition of warfare. It is designed to cover the case of a belligerent war vessel, never a fleet, floating from a stronger enemy in close waters, but only to be harmlessly sunk an hour after they are launched.

A casual reading of the conventions makes clear the gravity of the charges against Germany brought by the British admiralty. The verdict of world opinion will be rendered on whether the British evidence is brought to support the charges.

Pritzell, who is in charge of the party, was accompanied by a wagon full of supplies and two saddle horses tied on behind the boys left Lacombe Nov. 4. Near the Brazeau river, they found the roads impassable. Supplies were transferred to the pack horses and the young hunters proceeded on foot. Having arrived at their destination, the boys spent two and a half days hunting, finding game plentiful and hunting conditions ideal.

On their return trip to Lacombe the three boys made "fast" time with their horse-and-wagon outfit, covering about 70 miles in three days. They expressed themselves as well pleased with the journey and hope to start out on another expedition to the big game country in the near future.

SECOND SECTION

BOARD
ADMINISTER
AGE PENSION

Special Management For Old Age, Mothers' Allowances Planned

Formation of a board to administer Old Age Pensions and Mothers' Allowance in this province, was announced Tuesday by Hon. E. L. Low, provincial treasurer, following his return from Ottawa, where he conferred with the Dominion government on questions of mutual interest.

As the Dominion government contributes to the Old Age Pensions payments, it was essential to obtain approval of the Dominion to set up the board. This approval has been given. Henceforth the Old Age Pension has been administered by the Workmen's Compensation Board and the Mothers' Allowance by the public health department.

THREE-MAN BOARD
To be set up to jointly operate these two services will consist of the deputy minister of Old Age Pensions, the deputy minister and the superintendent of the public health department.

Following approval of the change in administration of Old Age Pensions from the Workmen's Compensation Board to the public health department, the provincial government will be establishing a three-man board, Mr. Low stated. By bringing these two services under the administrative body it is hoped to gain efficiency, reduce costs and eliminate any likelihood of overlapping.

In estimating for the current fiscal year the appropriation for Mothers' Allowance ratified by the legislature, is $633,075, for Old Age Pensions and Pensions for the Blind totals $2,625,070.

SUPPLY BOARD
Mr. Low stated that he and Mr. Fallow put forward Alberta claims for a share in the coal supply for the province.

Mr. Fallow said that the representations had been given a careful hearing and that they were given a favorable opportunity for presenting their case. The superintendent of the public health department is Dr. Victor W. Wright, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board; T. B. Blair, deputy superintendent of Mothers' Allowance; and J. F. Percival is deputy provincial treasurer.

Gets One Year
On Theft Count

Pleading guilty to a charge of stealing $1,200 from a local concern, a Montgomery Ward store, an accountant, was sentenced to serve one year in Fort Saskatchewan by Mr. Justice W. R. Howson in supreme court Tuesday.

Pls that the accused, who has a previous criminal record, was being paid only $8 weekly, less than the minimum wage, and that his defalcations were approximately the same as the difference between the wage and the minimum, was set up by his counsel, R. Fred Jackson. In making this plea Mr. Jackson emphasized that it did not condone his offence, was submitted as a reason for court leniency.

Mr. Justice Howson, in passing sentence, said there was no excuse for the accused, a small salary earner, for having stolen from his employer, and instead of a penitentiary term would impose a jail sentence.

Pretty Packers Perform

This quartet of good-will apple-wrappers and packers from the Okanagan Valley—western Canada's orchard—has been in the city since Monday and Tuesday as they demonstrated just how fast the fruit can be packed. The pretty packers are, left to right, Alvin Parent, Penitentiary, Dorothea Greenwood, Vernon; Isabel Stillingfleet, Kelowna, champion packer for the British Empire, who can fill a box in 2 1/2 minutes; Lila Parent, Penitentiary, who's doing the wrapping. This demonstration was given in the council chamber, Legislative buildings, while Premier Abernethy and cabinet ministers looked on.

The accused was married to a wife and two children, coming to Edmonton in April 1937, he began work as a hard-working man of the mechanical department of public works.

Sarnia Imps Dominate Ontario Union All-Stars

BY JACK CALDER

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—Sarnia Imperials, already grasping one handle of their ninth consecutive Ontario Rugby Football Union senior championship, were recognized in the election of six players to the league's 1939 all-star team.

Thirteen coaches and sports writers in the four O.R.F.U. cities, who selected the team for the Canadian Press, allotted half the places to the Imperials and two each to Montreal Westmounts, Toronto Balmy Beach and Peterborough. The vote was "weighted" so equal voting strength prevailed in all cities.

HERE IS THE TEAM:

Flying Wing—Joe Woodcock, Sarnia.
Half—Bernie Moore, Sarnia.
Half—Bernie Thompson, Balmy Beach.
Half (Secondary Defence)—Johnny Ferraro, Westmount.
Quarterback—Curly Krug, Peterborough.
Tackle—Henry Living, Sarnia.
Tackle—Bob Reid, Balmy Beach.
Tackle—Pat Butler, Sarnia.
Middle—Tommy Burns, Westmount.
Middle—Cliff Parsons, Sarnia.
Outside—Leo Deader, Peterborough.
Outside—Leo Norris, Sarnia.
It was a tribute to a Sarnia team which has not been so highly regarded as some previous Imperials machines, but which looked good in its talk with the Imperials, splitting the Westmounts 13-1 in the first game of finals at Sarnia last week.
The bulkheads of the surprising victory over the Imperials were together with the hard-tackling North, the high-steering Moore and the pile-driving Woodcock, representatives of the younger element in the Sarnia's reliable club.
Given the swift, sure-gaining running of Thompson and the passing and punting Ferraro, that team would give Krug something to work with for a chance. The selectors realized that Curly, a former Woodcock junior star, got the very best out of Peterborough material that didn't win a game but made almost all of them close.
The team looks only a great kick and there really hasn't been one in the Union this year except Hank Galloway of Sarnia, who missed the early games. But Thompson, who did all Balmy Beach's punting, could do that capably enough on the kind of ground.
Moore, who won the Eastern scoring championship, was given 22 of a possible 25 votes for one half-back position and the other three for secondary back with only one selector failed to put Thompson at one position or another and two were more evenly distributed, though Living and Ferraro were well up with 19 apiece.
Alex Fleming, who made the mythical team in 1938 drew 11 votes to 18 for Butler and 18 for Reid. But the selectors' surprise in picking Fleming was the 1938 all-star, who made the quarterback post with Balmy Beach in the last campaign.
Only Ferraro, Thompson, Reid and Burns were carryovers from last year's team. Hugh Stirling and Mike Clarkson, who represented the Imperials in the 1938 all-stars, have retired along with Ab. Box, who made the quarterback post with Balmy Beach in the last campaign.

Nate Druzman Challenges Jacobs On Middle Muddle

SEATTLE, Nov. 21.—Boxing promoter Nate Druzman of Seattle today challenged Mike Jacobs of New York City to settle the midweight championship muddle.

Druzman promised that if Jacobs would release Cefero Garcia, New York and California champion, to fight Seattle's Al Hostak, here Hostak would agree to a return match with Garcia in New York. Hostak is recognized by the National Boxing Association as champion in 46 states.

TO MEET SEELIG

Hostak will fight outside the Pacific northwest for the first time when he defends his title against Seelig, December 11 in a 15-round bout with Eric Seelig.

Druzman said a Hostak-Garcia championship fight belongs in Seattle because the biggest gate in the midweight division history—$68,000—was drawn here when Hostak won the title from Freddie Steele.

The Seattle promoter feels Hostak will knock out Garcia, Druzman argued that if the fight were staged in New York there would be no chance of a return match in Seattle because Garcia has already shown here and gone—three times.

On the other hand, Druzman said, Hostak has never fought in New York and Jacobs could still stage a successful return bout there even if Hostak polished off Garcia in Seattle because New York would still be anxious to see Hostak in action.

JACOBS PRAISES NATE

Jacobs was quoted last week from New York as praising Druzman's attitude. Uncle Mike said: "I don't blame Druzman for wanting Hostak to fight in Seattle. Druzman isn't promoting Mike Hostak a big-name fighter and now Druzman certainly should get some of the benefit of his drawing power."

That's the kind of a promoter I like to see. I wish there were more of them in the game—constructive fellows.

To which Druzman replied: "Thanks for the boost, Mike, but I don't do more for the boxing game by helping other promoters and other cities. Let's see you do it by releasing Garcia to fight Hostak in Seattle."

Settlers Seek Dugouts As Hunters Storm Woods

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Nov. 21.—The big game hunting season is on again, and settlers and experienced hunters are dodging stray bullets fired by greenhorns. Old hunters and guides shout their warnings each fall, but still they see something in the trees "that moves." They go into the bush with the idea that there is nothing that isn't stationary but themselves and the animals they are hunting. So, when something moves, it just must be a deer or a moose, and they shoot.

Game wardens and guides beware the number of cow noises that are shot. One hunter was indignantly told he had shot a cow. "What difference?" he demanded. "Isn't a moose a moose?" the warden asked. "No," the hunter replied. "It is against the law to shoot a moose, but he failed to make a moose."

Several years ago, a bush hunter, home through his pasture, singing lustily to keep himself company. A bullet sailed through his open mouth and out his cheek! A deer shot. The deer was not hurt. He said almost anything might have happened if the man had not had his mouth open. He never found out who fired the shot, but he carried a bullet through his cheek.

More than half of the world's inhabitants live on the continent of Asia.

That's the kind of a promoter I like to see. I wish there were more of them in the game—constructive fellows.

To which Druzman replied: "Thanks for the boost, Mike, but I don't do more for the boxing game by helping other promoters and other cities. Let's see you do it by releasing Garcia to fight Hostak in Seattle."

Two New Entries Complete League

—By Robt. Ripley

TWO new entries, Army and Navy Cardinals and Medico and the Edmonton Garrison to complete a four-team Intermediate Hockey League in Edmonton.

Three weeks ago it was anticipated that the intermediate hockey would be played. Deep gloom shrouded this popular league as only two teams were ready for operation, but last night's meeting lifted the cloud of the intermediate league and the league action here.

PEDEN BOYS FAVORED DUO IN N.Y. RACE

Henry Armstrong Starts Cyclist on Long Ride To Nowhere

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—New York's 86th International Sunday bicycle race—the first to be run under "union rules" of a five-day week—got under way in Madison Square Garden last night.

It was also decided that approximately 50 percent of the prize money be played at the arena while the remaining part will be played at the Yacht Club in South Edison.

Henry's talent is only a minor problem. There are many good hockey players ready to draw for intermediate play. None of the four teams will be short of talent. This fact was proven last year when a four team circuit operated and produced a pleasing brand of hockey.

Medico and the Garrison have been organized for some time now. The Bears have had many good drills under the watchful eye of Coach Stan Mohr.

At this early date the Mohr Bears are top favorites. Coach Mohr has a much stronger team than the Bears.

On the other hand the Garrison has many due followers dressed in khaki. Several of the Garrison team played in an exhibition here some time ago and it is a sure bet the army will be well represented.
